Hard Work Wins

Elsie L. Green.

When at 13, Elsie L. Green made her obscure start in the Indianapolis business world, she had but one theory—hard work. Today, she is known to more big business men than any other woman in Indiana, and has recently been made assistant general secretary of the Indianapolis chamber of commerce which, with more than 4,000 members, is in the front rank of civic-commercial organizations.

HOPES FOR AFRIQUE SURVIVORS FADE IN MARINE TRAGEDY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
La Rochelle, France, Jan. 14.—More than 400 persons are believed to have lost their lives in the wreck of the steamer Afrique on Rochelle beach, Bay of Biscay. Only 87 survivors are known to have been saved.

Hope for the rest of the passengers and crew faded as hour after hour passed without cheering tidings. After 72 hours after the vessel foundered and many feared one of the greatest marine tragedies of modern times was enacted on the coast before dawn Sunday morning. Sailors and French colonial soldiers are the only persons from the ship known to have reached land safely.

Snow Slays on Roads

NOT TIME TO BUILD HARD ROADS SAYS COUNTY BOARD HEAD

The present is not the time to build concrete roads, said George Hull, chairman of the board of supervisors at the meeting of the Twilight club at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

"I believe it unwise—and I do not make this statement to influence the board," he stated, "to build concrete roads now with the high costs of labor. It is not a proposition which should be considered now. Just as long as the concrete men will hold us up. But if Rock county will set a figure on the cost of such roads, the concrete men will not pay, the concrete men will soon come across and build the roads for less money."

Along this line of retrenchment, the chairman declared that "it would seem advisable to hold up building, an isolation sanitizing unit business comes down to earth." In explanation he remarked that while he believes that tubercular and venereal cases should be kept out of the county, the consumption would result from increased manufacturing within the county. He did not think it wise to spend $100,000 to erect an $80,000 building which, in his mind, would mean $100,000 to $200,000, and would cost instead of the $10,000 estimated for upkeep, in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Speaking of Janesville and its growth, Mr. Hull in predicting a population of 100,000 in 20 years, said that "in order to build a city, do it right, have other matters preceding your attention. Many churches and similar institutions. I understand that you are starting recreational club rooms in your churches on Sundays for your young men. You need more such. You need a revision of things to keep along with your growth," he said. "The church, give them clean pictures. The movie houses."

He illustrated his remarks with a story about the experience of a friend of his who attended church one Sunday evening and heard a refreshing lecture. After the religious service he went to a picture house and saw a less enlightening picture. Before going home, this man decided to have a cigar and open a bottle of beer. He went to a store and saw a storekeeper who was a back room where he found more men in comparison to both the church and theatre gambling at cards.

DANIELS' RELATIVE REFUSES D. S. M.

SUPERVISORS KILL MOVE FOR KEEPING HIGHWAYS OPEN

UNANIMOUSLY REJECT AUTO DEALERS' PETITION FOR ACTION.

"SLEIGHING GOOD"

Legislators Demand Facts to Show Heavy Loss Is Caused Yearly.

No snow will be removed from highways in Rock county this winter until any attempt be made to keep roads open for traffic.

This decision was made by the board of supervisors at the meeting today at the court house when a petition of the Rock County Auto Dealers association was quashed by an unanimous vote.

Upon the introduction of the resolution, which was read by County Clerk Howard W. Lee, a motion was made by Supervisor W. S. Ferrigo, Beloit, to refer it to the highways committee for consideration. Such a step would probably have meant shelving and it immediately was a storm of protest from Supervisors H. B. Moseley, Beloit, and Wilson Lane, Janesville.

Mr. Moseley argued that the matter should not be put over to a committee unless that body be authorized to report on it immediately.

MOB RUSHES REICHSTAG; MANY KILLED IN MELEE; EXTREMISTS PROTEST NEW INDUSTRIAL BILL

Noske Named Commander-in-chief for Greater Berlin; Barbed Wire Cordon Thrown up; Guards on Duty Are Strongly Reinforced.

Paris, Jan. 14.—Martial law has been declared throughout Germany with the exception of Bavaria, Saxony, Wuertemberg, and Baden, according to Berlin adices.

Dispatches from Berne says that during the demonstration before the Reichstag building in Berlin, yesterday, two policemen were killed and two are missing. Ten others were wounded. Twenty members of the crowd attempted to rush into the building were killed and 40 wounded.

Mob and Police in Melee

Berlin, Tuesday, Jan. 13.—Many persons were killed and wounded in a melee between members of a mob and police guards in front of the Reichstag building here this afternoon.

The mob, organized by extremists as a protest against the industrial council's bill now before the Reichstag, began to gather this morning. By noon every street leading to the Tiergarten was crowded with masses of people carrying red flags and placards. The authorities had surrounded the Reichstag building with guards and machine gunners who barred approach to the edifice. Inflammatory speeches were begun by agitators.

JACKSON ST. BRIDGE WILL BE OPEN FOR TRAFFIC BY FEB. 1

That the Jackson street bridge will be temporarily opened for traffic before Feb. 1 is the definite promise contained in a letter received from the Wausau Iron Works by City Attorney Roger C. Cunningham. The bridge may then be used until spring when contractors will add the finishing touches in the form of pavement, sidewalks, and curbs and gutters.

The head of the Wausau firm states it is expected to have the gravel fill between the arches completed by February 1. He estimates a week of work on the foot bridge, then four or five days for dismantling the derrick, declaring the temporary opening of the structure between Jan. 25-30. He cautions that it would not be advisable, from an engineering standpoint, to use the bridge before that time, as it is necessary to allow time for the fill to settle.

Since the council's demand for action was carried out, the bridge has been in constant operation dredging the river and filling in the sand. Gravel obtained from the Janesville Sand and Gravel company has been used to complete the approaches which the derrick could not reach.

Whether the structure will be christened with grape juice or some other equally harmless liquid has not yet been decided. The city of Hilt of the Fourth, declares he will be the first man to drive a motor vehicle over the new bridge.

HOLLAND-BELGIUM SOLUTION REACHED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Brussels, Thursday, Jan. 13.—A satisfactory solution of the economic problems arising out of the revision of the treaty of 1839 has been reached by the governments of Belgium and Holland, but it is asserted that no military accord will be reached at present.

The dispute between the Scheldt is reported to have been settled by a plan for two commissions, one for the Scheldt which will sit at Brussels and the other to deal with the Scheldt-Nieuwen canal, to sit at Ghent. Both commissions will comprise Dutch and Belgian members and will have the right to make recommendations and to negotiate with the representatives of the nations which have joined the league. In accordance with the provisions of the peace treaty a canal will be dug to connect the Scheldt with the Rhine, extending above the Meuse and reaching Duisburg. This canal will connect Strasbourg and Antwerp.

ALLEGED BOGUS CHECK MAN IS APPREHENDED

Another bogus check man claiming to be William Lawrence is being held by Milwaukee police according to information given Chief Thomas Morrissey yesterday. He is believed to be the same man who succeeded in cashing a check for $30 on the Grand hotel here a few days ago. The check, which was drawn on a Wisconsin bank, was to protest and since that time local police have been on the look-out for Lawrence.

Chief Morrissey was told that he would be turned over to him as soon as he had been given a hearing and probably a sentence on a similar charge for which he is now being held in the Cream city.

HERCULES STEEL CASTING CO.

871-891 Robinson Ave.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Offers to the Public

500 shares of preferred, 7 per cent cumulative, participating, non-retirable stock

Hercules Steel Casting Co. is a Milwaukee institution, organized under the laws of the State of Wisconsin, and capitalized at $300,000, of which $175,000 is preferred, 7 per cent cumulative, participating stock, and $125,000 is common stock.

Its plant, now operating, is located in Bay View, in the heart of Milwaukee's steel district and contiguous to the residences and homes of thousands of laboring men. Adequate and established side-track and transportation facilities render its physical location ideal.

Hercules Steel Casting Co. now serves a score of the largest users of steel castings in America, many of which firms have an international reputation and business standing. Conservatively estimated, the present plant and equipment can produce steel castings to the value of $150,000 monthly. ADVANCE ORDERS FOR 1920 ALREADY AMOUNT TO APPROXIMATELY $350,000.

Increasing business necessitates the installation of new equipment, to meet the expense of which Hercules Steel Casting Co. offers to the public $55,000 worth of preferred stock now held in the company's treasury.

The stock thus offered to the public possesses all the advantages and safeguards of a preferred stock investment and, in addition, shares earning on an equal basis with the common stock of the company. The preferred stock now offered cannot be retired at any time and the holder is assured of continued earnings. It is, in fact, a "PREFERRED" preferred stock.

Hercules Steel Casting Co. is soundly financed and ably managed, numbering among its directorate and stockholders Milwaukee business men of prominence and sound judgment who privately subscribed to the company's original issue of stock.

The 500 shares of preferred, 7 per cent cumulative, participating, non-retirable stock now offered is the first block of stock offered to the public by this company. It will soon be off the market.

Makes G. O. P. Responsible
"We will say to them that they, the republicans, must accept full responsibility for the treaty with its republican reservations and we will withdraw enough democratic votes from the roll call on the resolution of ratification so that the republican majority automatically becomes the constitutional two-thirds. Then we will have peace and the league of nations and we can go to work and it will be up to the people to pass their judgment upon the result, whatever the issue is at the polls. It is just the simple old American plan of majority rule, the principle of real democracy, for which our armies fought in Europe."

D. A. R. WILL MARK SITE OF JAMES HOME

That is the plan of the Daughters of the American Revolution to mark with suitable inscription the site of the tavern of Henry P. James, the first residence in the city of Jamesville, was shown by a report of the committee on landmarks given at the meeting of the D. A. R. held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Matheson yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. S. Atwood is chairman of this committee. The report was given by Mrs. A. E. Magee. The marker will be placed on the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets as soon as the exact site is determined.

The regent, Mrs. George S. Parker, called attention to the fact that the state law in regard to the display of flags on the school buildings was not observed. It was voted that the secretary be instructed to communicate with the school board in regard to the matter. Mrs. Kenneth Jeffris was proposed for membership in the local chapter and her name was accepted.

A program on Mexico was given by a committee headed by Mrs. Horace Blackman. It included a paper on the people and resources of the country by Miss Sara Sutherland.

Its mine treasures were enumerated and its wealth in live stock and agriculture was noted. A pretty program of Mexican dances was given by the pupils of Miss Josephine Fitzgerald in which Maudie Little, Gayle, the Mexican Flower Dance, Anna Esser and Avis Bick gave a skirt dance, and Ruth Sennett, Irene McBain, and Roberta Hazart danced the "Light of Mexico."

Light refreshments were served by the joint hostesses, Mrs. Matheson and Mrs. I. P. Wortendyke.

An Invitation to visit the Milwaukee Auto Show is cordially extended to every motor car owner in Wisconsin, likewise the prospective owner.

To have a collection of motor cars from 79 factories under one roof for the critical inspection of discriminating buyers is welcomed annually by nearly 100,000 owners who attend the show from near and distant state localities.

Come in and inspect them, compare them. You'll find the one that strikes your fancy and your purse.

THE successful farmer raises bigger crops and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmer's crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives.

Those desiring information concerning the railroad situation may obtain literature by writing to The Association of Railway Executives, 61 Broadway, New York.

Give me a lever long enough said Archimedes,
and I will move the earth

The war was an enormous lever; it stirred the world to its very foundations, tumbling about us a host of new, unanswered problems.

The saloon has gone; and for what the saloon provided in the way of social life there must be found some substitute. Labor emerges in dignity and power, with purposes that will fail unless they have a spiritual leavening.

From country communities thousands of boys went out, and will return with new demands upon the country Church.

The down-town parish; the mission field; the educational activities of the Church—all these present new aspects that demand first definite information; and second a vigorous program of action.

The Church has completed a national survey which shows its resources and charts its problems.

The Nation-Wide Campaign is to be the answer to these problems—the effective co-ordination of every resource for larger, more spiritual, more effective service.

American Skater Will Compete in Norway

Bobby McLean ready for the crack of the pistol.

New York, Jan. 14.—The first of a record number of foreign sport invasions for 1920 begins here today with the arrival of Bobby McLean, preparatory to sailing for Christiania where next month he will skate against Oscar Matheson for the world's professional championship. McLean, the American champion who defeated Matheson 15 out of 16 races in this country in 1914 and 1918, makes the trip to Norway to give the European champion a sportsman's chance to regain his skating laurels upon a larger track than those used when the American was victor. McLean, who sails on Friday, comes direct from Lake Placid, N. Y., where he has been training for 10 days, skating from 15 to 20 miles a day, to improve his speed and endurance.

ALL-BLACK LINE
London, Eng.—For some time past individuals in Jamaica and other places in the Caribbean have been invited to subscribe to an enterprise that has been incorporated in the state of Delaware by negroes. The scheme is an ambitious one, providing for the raising of a capital of $20,000 to establish a "Black Star Line of steamers," to be owned, controlled and manned by negroes, and to take the goods manufactured by American negroes from North America to Africa, the West Indies, South and Central America and other countries. Among the promoters are West Indians who have taken up their abode on American soil.

St. Paul Man Has Gained 15 Pounds

"I have actually gained fifteen pounds in weight while taking only four bottles of 'Tanin,'" says James H. Hansen, an employee of the Pratt Transfer Company and residing at 1134 Beech St., St. Paul, Minn., recently. Continuing, he said: "For about a year I have been in a badly run-down condition. I had a poor appetite, and when I did manage to force down a little something it would sour and I was extremely nervous and could hardly get any sleep and would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed. I felt tired and worn-out all the time and just had to drag myself around at my work. I also was troubled with constipation, the worst sort and had to take some sort of laxative all the time, and I would have such bad attacks of headache they would nearly drive me wild. "I had been reading so much about Tanin in the newspapers that I decided to try it, and it certainly has done me a lot of good. My appetite began to pick up almost with the first dose I took and I began to gain in weight before I had finished the first bottle. I am feeling great now and can eat anything I want without suffering any bad after effects. I sleep soundly at night and get up in the morning feeling ready for my day's work. I never have the headache any more and always feel full of life and energy. Tanin is surely a great medicine and I want to be able to use a good word for it." Tanin is sold in Janeville by Mr. C. and Buss and by leading druggists in every town.

CINEMA SNAPS

George Walsh is a brother-in-law of Willie Hoppe, billiard champion. Walsh is taking lessons from his sister's husband, and expects to challenge any actor to a match soon.

As soon as Florence Reed returns to New York from her tour on the road she will find everything in readiness at the Tribune studios for her to begin making scenes for a new dramatic feature photoplay. Miss Reed's latest film offering, "The Eternal Mother," is about to be released.

Dustin Farnum has received many peculiar requests but he says one he recently received caps the climax of a series of strange requests. He was asked to send along his old woolen socks and mittens. "Dusky" hasn't used any such things since he was a boy in Bucksport, Me.

GOSSIPY BITS

Margaret Daw is to make a series of films under the direction of Marshall Neilan.

Tom Moore has just completed a photoplay called "Duds."

"False Colors," story by Edwin Levin, will be Priscilla Dean's next picture.

William Harvey, who appears in the cost of Pearl White's "The White Moll," was at one time an elevator boy.

Tom Mix now owns a large cattle ranch in Texas.

Helen Furguson's ancestors came to America from Alsace-Lorraine.

"White Lies" will be William Scott's eighteenth photoplay.

Vivian Rich has a new traveling gown, made according to description, from corded maroon velvet, satin and sequins.

Mary Hall was presented with a pair of silver spurs by a party of admirers.

The Mission band of the Lutheran church met Saturday afternoon. The reading of the book "Mook," portraying the life of a Chinese lad, was started. Each member brought a guest and after the program, games were played. Later refreshments were served.

ACID TRAP FOR CHILDREN COSTS WOMAN A YEAR

Philadelphia, Pa.—After being denounced for her cruelty in spreading a corrosive acid on her doorstep for the purpose of injuring children of the neighborhood, Anne Letum of 24 Moore street, was sentenced to a term of one year in the county prison by Judge McNiel in the municipal court.

The woman was convicted on seven charges of technical assault and battery. Last June she spread the acid on the doorsteps when playful children annoyed her. Seven children were hurt by the chemical, but none of them seriously. The acid was so strong that it burned a hole in the floor in one of the children's homes, where it had been tracked on a boy's shoes.

REINE TO FURNISH PARIS WITH ELECTRIC POWER

Paris.—Albert Clavelle, minister of public works, is to be appointed president of the International Rhine commission as soon as the treaty with Germany goes into effect. It is reported here, in order to obtain the fullest advantages arising from the special rights which were accorded France by the Rhine treaty.

At Clavelle has already worked out a most elaborate scheme which includes, in addition to an intensive development of export and import trade, a series of huge waterpower plants at which huge turbines will generate electric current which will be transmitted to Paris to carry on industrial work. It is stated the capacity of plants here will be doubled almost without cost.

TRY IT AND SEE

Philadelphia, Pa.—How long can a man hold a drink of brandy in his mouth without swallowing it? was the question raised in a liquor hearing before United States Commissioner Manley.

Agents Texas and Snyder of the department of justice bureau here, testified that they had each bought a drink of brandy over the bar at a saloon at 118 South Fifteenth street. They put the liquor in their mouths, they said, paid $1 for the two drinks, walked out of the saloon and 65 feet down the street without swallowing a drop. There they each placed the dram in a bottle. The bottles were offered in evidence at the hearing. Court officials agreed that the department of justice agents had manifested remarkable self-control.

Nim, said Prof. Garner, he is a different person.

CIGARETTES GOING UP

New York.—The high cost of smoking is going higher. One of the largest retail concerns, with branches in all parts of the country, has announced that the retail price of various popular American "blends" of cigarettes, now retailing at 18 cents a package of 20, would be advanced to 20 cents, or something over 11 percent. The raise, it is declared, is necessary to make up an increase of 80 cents a thousand in the wholesale price. Higher cost of cigarette tobacco is blamed for the advance.

So Unusual Only Early Choice Can Assure Against Disappointment.

The instant response to this announcement, we are certain, is going to be stupendous. The values are as great as any ever presented by this store, when one considers the percentage of discounts offered from former prices. It will be necessary to come early in order to enjoy the widest opportunity for choice, as people are bound to make selections very quickly. Of course, at this season of the year, when variety of styles are incomplete, and when certain sizes and colors have been sold, it leaves the stock of Coats and Suits—while as good as any that have been sold—in a limited quantity. That is why we urge the necessity of an early attendance at this Sale.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been both interested and indignant. How can any parent, especially a mother, scold the mischievous spirit of her boy, and the sake of selfish gain?

I have always wanted to shut two classes of people, namely, the selfish parent and the selfish child. I have seen too many children who are being brought up to be selfish. Here in our beautiful land of the free as a bright youth, craving for mental development, and the very one who should be encouraged and helped to power to aid, encourage and help him are through selfishness and ignorance, no doubt, not only depriving him of an education, but also making life bitter and unbearable for him. Any mother who will take $12 a week from him, who ought to be her due, and who cannot expect him to respect her in the future to come, instead of spending it all for the home, she should be scolded. My heart weeps for the youths and maidens who long for an education and who, either through selfish parents or mismanagement, are denied it. But where there is a will, there is a way. "Hope, star of life," has risen for "Dave," and may it never set. How happy I would be to help and encourage him!

To the boys and girls whose parents have been scolded for not educating them and who have in return given gross ingratitude, what think they of "Dave's" situation? I have heard of a kid who said to his parents, but he has a brave spirit, and a good heart. It is up-hill work. It may be slow, discouraging, weary, but it is worth it. "Dave" is looking up, not down, and soon success will crown your efforts. Fight your battles bravely. If you find it necessary to leave home, don't run away, but first tell your parents you are going.

Dr. Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl married woman. The night before Christmas I sat up with a sick lady all night. Her husband had some whiskey and I took a drink and after he had gone to bed his sister sat up with me. She and I took several more drinks and I was going to leave me for it.

I am sorry that it happened, but I don't know what to do. I have a headache and I feel as if I did not misbehave at the time that I remember.

BAD WOMAN FOR ONE TIME. Such a disagreeable experience should be forgotten and not repeated. Your repentance is probably enough without your husband's consent. I am sure you will never be blamed, however. I do not believe he will go so far as to leave you.

Jim has been away two weeks. The first few days I stayed at home. Then I was angry at him for his selfishness, mad at myself for being angry at him, and altogether in too upset a state to stay alone.

But after my ugly mood had passed I decided to be a regular, kind, and loving wife. I have been a bit lonely. It has been an absolutely new experience, and very enlightening.

I have learned a lot of things about myself. One of them is that I care for Jim more than I knew. How do wives ever gauge their feelings accurately unless they apply the test of absence?

Surely it is not until the ash trays are always clean that she learns to be a friendly, smiling, and helpful wife. The bottom of the closet so exasperatingly—how eloquent they are, when empty, of courage, hard work, and kindness!

You see a nobly-handled umbrella with a broken rib in the hall rack, and suddenly remember how cross you were that stormy evening he came home late. Perhaps he'd had a harder day than you realized. Well—you decide to be more patient, when he comes back.

How still the flat is! What's that noise in the kitchen? Oh, no! You mustn't set a trap. Oh, how you hate to touch a mousetrap. You guess you'll wait until he comes home and let him do it. You'll forget the noises in the kitchen by playing on the piano. There—of course, the first roll you drag out is the intermission during that he always asks you to play! You shove it back quick. It makes you feel lonesome, notwithstanding the fact that he always found fault with the way you played it. (You forget about that part!)

You'll get out some mending. Why do the socks have to be right on top, poor, frayed-out toes and heels. My.

NOBBY SUIT FOR THE WINTER TERM

(to the floor), or even doing an imitation of a stilled ox has given marked relief in numerous cases of circulatory trouble such as palpitation, vertigo, nervousness, (especially rapid heart action), swollen veins, and just "poor circulation."

The condition of swollen or dilated veins (varicose veins, varicose and hemorrhoids—piles) is so very rare in quadrupeds that some observers say it never occurs.

Our exact posture brought with it not only a soul but many things to try the soul.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. HOMOTHEIC GARDEN. ANSWER:—The old standard formula consists of thirty grains of salicylic acid dissolved in half an ounce of flexible collodion. This is painted on the corn each night for a week or so, preferably following a prolonged hot soaking of the foot. The corn finally softens and comes away. Of course, no remedy has permanent curative effects. The corn is still to recur unless the cause—friction from tight shoes and pressure from slumped shoulders—is removed. People continued to wear for a number of weeks always get rid of their corns.

LEMONS. Will the habitual use of lemons, say the juice of half a lemon in water without any sugar taken before breakfast every morning, injure health in any way? Some people say there was a theory that lemons caused cancer. Please tell me if tomatoes are harmful, raw or cooked, and whether they increase acidity of the system. (L.S.)

ANSWER:—The lemon habit is a healthy one. Tomatoes are wholesome in any form, and will never increase acidity in the blood. The cancer notion was just somebody's imagination.

THE BEST KIND OF MILK. What kind of milk should I use for a child under five years of age—sterilized or raw? (R.A.)

ANSWER:—Certified if obtainable. Raw milk is a healthful food, but it improves of the milk supply. Pasteurized as a third choice. Sterilized never is a good thing, and by order of your physician.

HEALTH HINTS. Walk a mile each day to keep the doctor away, advises the United States Public Health Service. Walking to work every morning and see if it doesn't make you younger, and healthier.

Cattle are fattened for slaughter by being overfed and not allowed to exercise. Many men and women prepare themselves for slaughter by voluntarily adopting the "stall fed" life. Don't overeat and take plenty of healthful outdoor exercise.

Hot house people are like hot house plants. They can't stand exposure to severe weather. Sleep with windows open and keep every room well ventilated.

This is the scarlet fever season. A clean, sanitary world will help to prevent it. Compel the children to brush their teeth regularly and keep the mouth clean.

Beware bootleg liquor for much of it contains wood alcohol and other poisons. An ordinary swallow of wood alcohol may produce death or blindness. Don't risk it.

Every sore throat is a danger signal and may indicate some acute infectious disease, such as diphtheria or scarlet fever. Take no chances. Have a physician make an immediate examination. A few hours delay may cause death.

Rats cost every person in the United States one-half of one cent a day. Write to the Surgeon General, Department of Health, Washington, D.C., for an instructive bulletin on how to get rid of them.

Keeping physically fit is the first rule to be observed in keeping well. Exercise is necessary to health.

Too much sleep is almost as injurious as not getting quite enough. The average adult should sleep eight hours in every twenty-four.

One man in every three was rejected by draft boards for physical disability. According to the United States Public Health Service, a great many of these defects might have been eliminated and probably will be in the next generation.

Give your physician a chance to keep you well before you call him in to cure you. An occasional thorough examination by a competent physician will save you money and prolong your life.

Don't always call the aching joint "rheumatism." Bad teeth sometimes times the real cause and it is always wise to consult both the doctor and the dentist. Have an X-ray made of the teeth.

Beware the much advertised "cure cure" for disease. While experimenting, the disease often gets beyond the point where it can be cured by a competent physician.

Household Hints

MENU HINT. Sliced Bananas Cereal and Cream Omelet

TOAST. Lunchroom. Clam Fritters Hashed Brown Potatoes Whole Wheat Bread Sliced Pineapple

DINNER. Baked Fish, Spanish Sauce Mashed Potatoes Lettuce

SUGARLESS SWEETS. Nut Delights—Two cups chopped corn, one cup pecan or walnut meats, three cups sweet chocolate, two tablespoons rich cream. Break the chocolate into small pieces and melt it over hot water. As soon as it is melted add the cream, corn and nuts. Stir quickly with a silver fork and lift out in small lumps. Place on waxed paper to dry.

COCONUT DUMPLINGS. Two egg whites, one-half cup corn syrup, one-half cup flour, two and one-half cups ground coconut. Beat whites of eggs until stiff, add corn syrup, fold into stiff foam and add coconut. Drop by tablespoons on greased baking sheets and bake in a moderate oven about twenty minutes.

FRUIT BARS. One cup each of figs, dates, seeded raisins and walnut meats are run through the food chopper; the fruit being first washed and dried thoroughly. To this pulp is added a few grains of salt, two tablespoons of orange and one of lemon juice. This is formed into oblongs of any shape desired, rolled in sugar if a little can be spared, and half a walnut meat pressed in the top of each cake. For variety they may be rolled in ground cinnamon.

CORN FLAKE MACAROONS. Two egg whites, one-half cup corn syrup, one-half cup flour, two and one-half cups ground coconut. Beat egg whites till stiff, fold in syrup, add coconut and lastly corn flakes. Drop on well greased tin about one inch apart. Bake in moderate oven about ten minutes. Remove from pan while warm.

TO COOK CABBAGE. To Boil Cabbage—Cut a small head of cabbage in four parts, cutting down through the core. Soak for half an hour in cold water to which a tablespoon of salt has been added; this is to draw out any insects that may be hidden in the leaves. Take from the water and cut into slices. Cook in boiling salted water from twenty-five to forty-five minutes, depending upon the age of the cabbage. Turn into a colander and drain. Chop and season with butter, pepper and more salt if needed.

CREAMED CABBAGE. Mix a pint of the boiled cabbage with a cup of thick white sauce. The mixture may also be placed in an oiled baking dish, covered with buttered crumbs and baked. It is to be served for luncheon, or at a meal where no meat is served, grated cheese may be added to the sauce, allowing about half a cup of the cheese to every cup of sauce.

CABBAGE SALAD. Chop the cabbage fine and let stand in very cold salted water. Season with salt, pepper, oil and vinegar; or, if preferred, a cooked dressing may be served over it.

To this pulp is added a few grains of salt, two tablespoons of orange and one of lemon juice. This is formed into oblongs of any shape desired, rolled in sugar if a little can be spared, and half a walnut meat pressed in the top of each cake. For variety they may be rolled in ground cinnamon.

CORN FLAKE MACAROONS. Two egg whites, one-half cup corn syrup, one-half cup flour, two and one-half cups ground coconut. Beat egg whites till stiff, fold in syrup, add coconut and lastly corn flakes. Drop on well greased tin about one inch apart. Bake in moderate oven about ten minutes. Remove from pan while warm.

TO COOK CABBAGE. To Boil Cabbage—Cut a small head of cabbage in four parts, cutting down through the core. Soak for half an hour in cold water to which a tablespoon of salt has been added; this is to draw out any insects that may be hidden in the leaves. Take from the water and cut into slices. Cook in boiling salted water from twenty-five to forty-five minutes, depending upon the age of the cabbage. Turn into a colander and drain. Chop and season with butter, pepper and more salt if needed.

CREAMED CABBAGE. Mix a pint of the boiled cabbage with a cup of thick white sauce. The mixture may also be placed in an oiled baking dish, covered with buttered crumbs and baked. It is to be served for luncheon, or at a meal where no meat is served, grated cheese may be added to the sauce, allowing about half a cup of the cheese to every cup of sauce.

CABBAGE SALAD. Chop the cabbage fine and let stand in very cold salted water. Season with salt, pepper, oil and vinegar; or, if preferred, a cooked dressing may be served over it.

FRUIT BARS. One cup each of figs, dates, seeded raisins and walnut meats are run through the food chopper; the fruit being first washed and dried thoroughly. To this pulp is added a few grains of salt, two tablespoons of orange and one of lemon juice. This is formed into oblongs of any shape desired, rolled

CHAPTER III.

The Cullisons, and Laura London. Curly was aware of the sound of the door being called to breakfast on a triangle, Buck was standing beside the bed.

"How're they coming this morning?" he inquired with a grin.

"Fine and dandy," grinned back Flandrau. "How is Cullison?"

"Good as the wheat," says. "Might be lucky for Mr. C. Flandrau that he is. Say, I'm to be your valet and help you into them clothes. Git a wiggle on you."

"Curly escorted his prisoner over to the ranch messhouse. The others had finished breakfast but Maloney was still eating. His mouth was full of hot cakes, he nodded across at Curly in a casual friendly way.

"How's the villain in the play this morning?" he inquired.

Twenty-one usually looks on the cheerful side of life. He had forgotten for the moment about what had happened to his friend Alec. He did not remember that he was in the shadow of a prison wall.

"The sun was shining out of a deep blue sky. The vigor of youth flowed through his veins. He was hungry and a good breakfast was before him. For the present these were enough."

"Me, I'm feeling a heap better than I was last night," he admitted. "Come pretty near losing you out of the east, didn't we?"

"Might a turned out that way if the stage manager had not remembered the right man to put on."

"The ten of the prisoner went out to this man who was reaching a hand to him in his trouble. He had always known that Maloney was not steady as a snubbing post, but he had not looked for kindness from him."

"Kite just got a telephone message from the Bar Double. It was a warning. Your friends that bought the rustled stock didn't get away with the goods. Seems they stuck in a bunch of rustlers unexpected and had to put their freight sudden."

"Make them get away," Curly inquired as indifferently as he could. "But in spite of himself a note of eagerness crept into his voice. For if the men had escaped that would be two less witnesses against him."

"Too bad. If they hadn't I could have proved by them I was not one of the men who sold them the stock."

Flandrau replied. "Buck snorted, then grinned at his prisoner in a shame-faced way. 'You're a good one, son.'"

Jack stuck his head in at the door. "Look, you're needed to help with them two-year-olds. The old man wants to have a talk with the rustlers. Don says he may. Maloney will will you take him up to the house?" Maloney had once ridden for the circus and was friendly with all the men on the place. He nodded. "Sure."

A Mexican woman let them into the chamber where the woman and boy lay. Kate was bending over the bed rearranging the pillows but she looked up quickly when the two men entered. Her eyes were still glistening with the love that had been shining down from them upon her father.

Cullison spoke. "Sit down, Doc. And to his prisoner. You too. Flandrau saw close at hand for the first time the man who had been Arizona's most famous fighting sheriff. Luck Cullison was well-built and of medium height, of a dark complexion, clean shaven, wiry and muscular. Already past fifty, he looked not a day more than forty. One glance was enough to tell Curly that kind of man this was. The power of him found expression in the gray steel-chilled eyes that bored into the young outlaw.

"You have begun early, young fellow," he said quietly. "But never mind that. I don't ask you to convert yourself. I sent for you to tell you I don't blame you for this." He touched the wound in his side.

"Different with your boys, sir." "So the boys are a little excited, are they?"

"They were last night, anyhow." Curly answered, with a glimmer of a smile.

Cullison looked quickly at Maloney and then at his daughter. "You've been hiding from me," he told them.

"Oh, the boys had notions. Miss Kate argued with them and they saw things different. The Bar Double rider explained."

But Cullison would not let it go at that. He made them tell him the whole story. Then Curly and Maloney laid out the facts of the case. Kate's little hand in his big brown fist. His eyes were dancing with pride, but he gave her not a word of spoken praise.

Kate spoke to Curly. "Father wants me to tell you that we don't blame you for shooting at him. We understand just how it was. You're a friend got excited and shot as soon as he saw he was surrounded. We are both very sorry he was killed. Father could not stop the boys in time. He has your word that he tried to get you to surrender."

"The rustler nodded. 'Yes, I heard him holler to me to put my gun down, but the others blazed away at me.'"

"And so you naturally defended yourself. Father wants it made clear that he feels you could have done nothing else."

"Much obliged. I've been sorry ever since I hit him, and not only on my own account."

"Then none of us need to hold hard feelings." The girl looked at her father, who answered her appeal with a grim nod, and then she turned again to the young rustler a little timidly. "I wonder, if you would mind if I asked you a question."

"You've earned the right to ask as many as you like."

"I've heard that you have been told you know the man they call Soapy Stone. Is that true?"

Flandrau's eyes took on a stony look. It was as if he had been stung. Still trying to get him to give away his partner in the rustling, were they? He would not tell him he could take his medicine without squealing.

"Your boys were asking that question about Soapy last night. They heck at me about it. I'm not at all into. Nothing unfriendly in the matter, of course. Just a casual interest in my doings."

Cullison was looking at him with the steel eyes that bored into him like a gimlet. Now he spoke sharply.

"I've got an account running with Soapy Stone. Some day I'll settle it. I likely. But that ain't the point now. Do you know his friends—the bunch he trails with?"

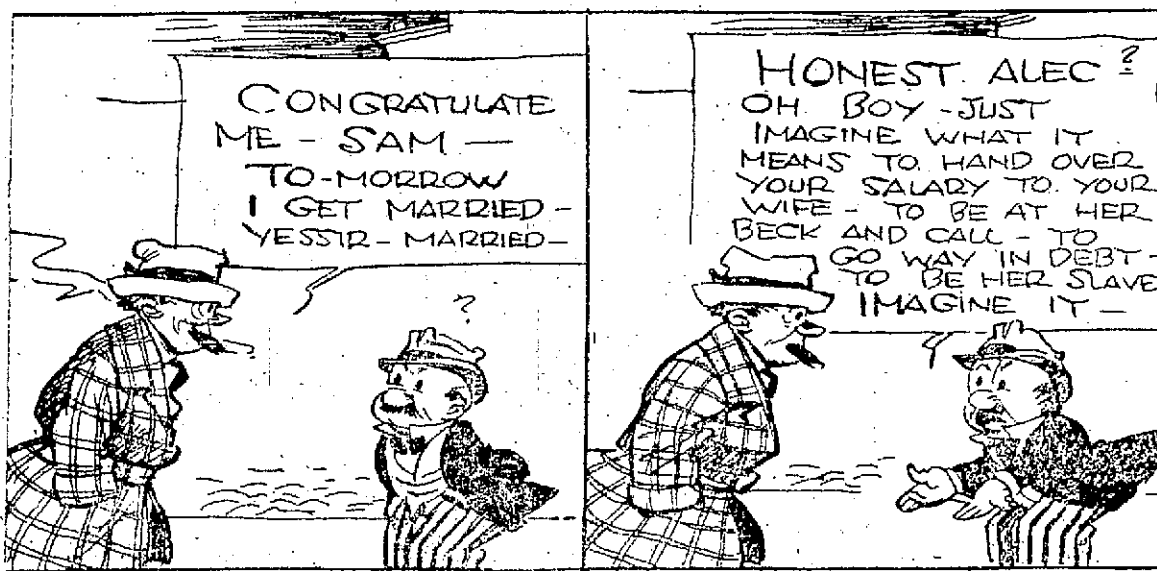

When Cullison seemed to crumple in the cool eyes of Flandrau.

"And if I may say, I'll bet your next question will be about the time and the place of that photograph."

He picked up a photograph from the table and handed it to the prisoner. "We're not interested in his friends—except one of them. Did you ever see the boy that sat for that picture?"

"I'll give ye a penny for ye thocht, Jack."

"Well," replied Jack, with sudden boldness, "I was just thinkin' hoo I'd deny it right after he had eaten a raw onion."

"Smith is mighty careless with the truth, isn't he?" said Brown.

"Yes," replied Jones. "Why, he'd try to deny it right after he had eaten a raw onion."

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
FOR ONE DAY IN ADVANCE OF PUBLICATION.

Several contributing reasons have made it necessary to place classifieds on a day-in-advance basis, which means that all classified advertising should be in the Gazette office one day in advance of publication.
We are sure everyone will appreciate the situation and cooperate to the best of their ability.
